Relative Clauses which

The student answered the question which surprised the teachers.
The student answered the question, which surprised the teachers.

In the first sentence it’s the question that surprises the teacher, however, in the second one it is the student’s answering it surprises the teacher.

2. Max isn't home yet, which worries me. (yes)

3. Won't you ever stop talking about things which make me nervous? (no)

4. Mr. Wallace came up with his students, which was a pleasant surprise. (yes)

5. I shut the door on my necktie, which was very stupid of me. (yes)

6. Jerry was fired from his work, which surprised all of his co-workers. (yes)

7. Did you get the message which concerned the special meeting. (no)

8. One day you'll learn where you once belonged, which will surely annoy you. (yes)

9. We have an apartment which overlooks the park. (no)

10. Mr. Anderson responded my letter, which I appreciated very much. (yes)

11. There was an accident on I-80, which means I'll be late to work this morning. (yes)

12. English has an alphabet which consists of 26 letters. (no)